FIRE DEPARTMENT

ELECTION

VICTORIA, Dec. 7, 1885.

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF THE CITY OF VICTORIA:

Having, by your vote cast on the 2nd instant, ratified the by-law for the constitution of a paid fire department for this city, and as by virtue of section 6, provision is made for the payment of a Chief Engineer, I now beg to announce to you that I am a candidate for re-election to that office.

It is almost unnecessary for me, in soliciting your suffrages, to recite my past experience in connection with the Volunteer Fire Department, whose services you have enjoyed since 1860. I joined the Deluge Engine Company in 1871, but long previous to that, dating back to 1862, I was a volunteer fireman in the highest sense of the term. As many of you are doubtless aware I was first elected Chief Engineer of the fire department in 1879, having previously been elected Assistant in 1877. Since my first election as Chief I have had the honor to present to you my fourth biennial report, and the duration of my office assures to me that you will extend to me the same liberal confidence which has placed me at the head of the volunteer department.

It has always been my endeavor not only to subdue and rapidly extinguish fires, but by vigilance as to the observance of the Fire Ordinances to protect property against incendiarism and neglect. In order to obtain the efficiency of the volunteer department it has ever been my aim to procure for it, through the proper channel, the necessary apparatus with many of the latest improvements in that respect. I have also made it my duty to inspect portions of the city wherein fires were not only possible, but probable, and in the suburbs, with the coadjutation of the Fire Wardens I have designated the location of hydrants which have been most useful in cases of emergency.

The apparatus of the department at the date when your vote was cast on the paid department by-law was in a most satisfactory condition and should you extend your support to me I can assure you that it will be my object to so preserve it. In asking for your suffrages I do so on my merits and experience as a fireman, and with a thorough confidence that past services will be appreciated at the polls.

I beg to thank the many ratepayers who have assisted me in the execution of my duties and to the female portion of the community, much of which has been as vigilant as the sterner sex, I also extend my thanks. In many instances it has been through the timely warning of ladies that I and my assistants have been enabled to check and extinguish incipient fires.

Trusting again fellow ratepayers that on the day of the election for Chief Engineer you will continue to place your confidence in me, and with my best assurance that the efficiency of the Fire Department shall be preserved and city property protected against conflagration.

I have the honor to be yours respectfully,

CHAS. J. PHILLIPS, Chief Engineer, V. F. D.

Victoria, Dec. 7th.

For Chief Engineer.

To the Ratepayers of the City of Victoria.

I HEREBY offer myself as a candidate for the position of Chief Engineer, and can confidently point to my record as an Active Fireman for the past 26 years as my highest recommendation for the responsible position.

I am, yours respectfully,

dec4 T. J. BURNES.

For Chief Engineer

To the Ratepayers of the City of Victoria.

GENTLEMEN,—Having been requested by a number of ratepayers to offer myself as a candidate for the position of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department to be organized by the city, I have much pleasure in consenting, and have the honor to solicit your suffrages on the 14th inst.

Yours truly,

JOSEPH WRIGLESWORTH. dec5

FOR ASSISTANT ENGINEER.

To the Ratepayers of the City of Victoria.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to offer myself for your suffrages on the 14th, for the position of Assistant Engineer under the new Fire Department organization, relying on my past record as an active fireman for a number of years as my highest recommendation.

I am, yours respectfully,

dec7 DAVID F. FEE.

FOR ASSISTANT ENGINEER.

To the Ratepayers of Victoria.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I beg to announce my intention to become a candidate for the above office. The large majority accorded me a few months ago by the Volunteer Firemen, and my long experience in the Department, will kindly receive your consideration on Monday next.

Yours respectfully,

THOS. DEASY, Assistant Engineer. dec7

CANADA'S ADVANTAGES

Over Britain as Presented to an Edinburgh Audience by the Hon. Edward Blake.

Affinity Between the Liberals of Great Britain and Canada—Their Work

In his admirable speech, delivered at the Presbytery banquet, in Edinburgh on the 13th ult., in animadverting upon the social and political questions that were agitating the people of Great Britain and Canada, the honorable gentleman of Canadians said: The people of Canada, as a whole, value, highly value, from considerations of sentiment and association, value from the great advantages which are to be drawn from it, the idea and the reality of the Empire, but they would be unworthy of their name as British subjects if they do not count amongst the chief reasons for valuing the Empire the fact that as British subjects they are entitled to British freedom. I believe my lords and gentlemen, that the fires of freedom's sacred altar burn with a flame as pure and fervent, and are tended by hearts as resolute and warm, in our northern clime, among our sparse population, and under very different conditions, as here in the Heart of Midlothian itself. He spoke of the difficulty of reconciling the

which we claim in Canada, with the form which the connection may ultimately assume, and of the importance of considering whether by "mutual conference and mutual arrangement there may not be, there ought not to be, some better adjustment, in some instances, of tariffs, with a view to facilitate the intercourse between the different parts of the Empire," before Canada and the Empire reach the point where the roads diverge, one leading to disintegration, and the other to Federation. Having discussed this subject as fully as the occasion permitted, and in the spirit of the most exalted patriotism, he said of Canada: "Well, what happens with us? Many British emigrants who are Liberals come to Canada, and of these some become Conservatives in Canadian politics. The great bulk of Canadian Liberals are Liberals in Imperial politics, and the larger proportion of these belong to the more extreme and advanced section of the Liberal party. Why is it? Why, it is because the bulk of the questions which you are agitating here are long ago settled questions with us. I can point you to a country in which the difficulty that we have in legislation is not to check but to secure sufficient deliberation and discussion before the final consummation of

LEGISLATIVE BATTLES.

I can point you to a country where the land, largely in the urban centres and still more largely in the rural communities, is associated in occupation with its ownership, where there is a practical, simple and expeditious machinery for the transfer and for the registration of titles; where primogeniture has been long abolished; where an entail is a curiosity almost as great as the dodo—(laughter)—where it is the custom of the people to divide their properties and estates amongst their children; where property is very equally diffused; and if there are not, as there are not, any grand estates—there is not either any overwhelming mass of grinding poverty. I can point you to a country where the churches have long since been disestablished and disendowed—(loud and continued cheers)—where they work on terms purely voluntary and of perfect equality and with a large and fraternal Christian feeling between the different bodies. I can point you to a country where the general system of education is national and gratuitous—(cheers)—compulsory and unsectarian—(hear, hear)—where out of a population of under two millions, there are on the rolls, and where there is public expenditure of over £600,000 annually for elementary education. (Cheers.) I can point you to a country which has an extensive and thoroughly organized system of local municipal government for its counties, and for its townships, and for villages, for its towns, and for its cities, so that the people's will by freely-elected representative boards—(cheers)—and where the great question to which allusion has been made—that of the liquor traffic, is settled by a direct popular vote. (Loud cheers.) I can point to a country where there is a system of State Government, a Government having large powers for doing business cheaply and expeditiously, and to touch with the people whose concerns they are to manage, to attend to the business of the Federal State unembarrassed by matters of less concern. (Cheers.) And in such a country as that, I think you can readily understand how it comes that the Liberals of Canada are Liberals in British politics, and most of them belong to the advanced wing. (Cheers.) But it would be wrong to say that because all this is done, there are no blemishes, that there is no reverse of the model, and that there is nothing left for Liberalism although so much has been accomplished. Our work as Liberals here, there and everywhere, is never done, and these constitutional reforms, after all, are mainly and simply the machinery by which we give to the people the capacity for governing themselves, and the great task of educating themselves up to that great responsibility. (Cheers.) The great task of seeing that it is well done still remains, and the wider the constitution, and the franchise, and the larger the power of the people, the greater the stress and strain on their conscience, their mind, their heart, and their intellect."

HALF A MILLION OF CHILDREN

LIBERALISM ALL OVER THE EMPIRE.

In the course of his remarks, as reported in the London Times, of the 14th, Lord Rosebery in referring to the federation of the colonies said: As regarded closer union with the colonies, he wished to say nothing that night, because on that he had also dilated, and because he would be imprudent, and, he might add, impudent, to say a word about the colonies in the presence of Mr. Blake (cheers), who was not merely the leader of the Liberal party in Canada, but also one of Canada's most distinguished statesmen, and whose welcome presence there that night showed that, however remote they might be from the federation of the Empire, yet Liberalism all over the Empire was federation. (Cheers).

SCOTTISH LIBERALISM.

The Hon. Mr. Gladstone in proposing the toast of "Prosperity to the Scottish Liberal Club," during his remarks on Scotland and Liberalism, said: When I speak of Liberal politicians, as for the most part but thinly scattered among the upper classes of this country—a fact which I cannot but acknowledge, but which I deeply deplore—I must make this acknowledgment to Scotland in particular—that if you take the eastern half of it from the border to the extreme north, within that eastern half you will find a body of Scottish peers (hear, hear), who for ability, for character, for patriotism, for enlightened views may challenge comparison with any other portion of Scotland or of England, and of whom I will say that if that body of Scottish peers represented the ordinary standard of the peerage of Great Britain and Ireland I should look forward with greater certainty and greater comfort to the future of the peerage than I do now. (Cheers.) * * * * * But the more serious the subject may appear to every enlightened and patriotic mind, the more we ought to admire the courage of those who associate together in a cause not easy to prosecute within the walls of the House of Lords, and, notwithstanding, do not fail to put forward their principles and maintain the cause of the nation against whatever odds and under whatever disadvantages. (Cheers.) Long may Scotland continue to make a large and effective contribution to swell the ranks. Indeed, they will well bear swelling—the ranks of the Liberal minority in the House of Lords. The personal merits of those in the force is admirable, and as to the leadership of that body of peers, my Lord Stair and gentlemen well know, and we all well know, that they never will want a leader, and the Scottish nation will never want an effective and powerful organ, so long as Lord Rosebery is spared.

FROM THE NORTH.

The Teaser Captured and is Now on Her Way to Victoria.

Arrival of the Boscowitz—Interesting Budget of News.

The steamer Barbara Boscowitz, Capt. S. Williams, arrived from Port Simpson and way ports, with the following passengers: Hon. A. C. Elliott, Rev. C. B. Nash and wife, L. J. Lewis, Judge Dawne, J. Riley, G. W. Terry, Wallace, J. McDowell, Mrs. J. Irvine, S. A. Spencer, two Indian prisoners and three Indians. The following landed at Nanaimo: D. H. McNeil, R. Cliff, T. Beckensell, one Indian prisoner and two Indians.

THE FREIGHT

of the Boscowitz was composed of several small shipments of furs and skins, eighty-four cases of clams from Mr. McDowell's clamery at Bella Bella and about twenty-eight thousand feet of lumber from Rivers inlet.

THE TEASER CAPTURED.

On the arrival of the Barbara Boscowitz at Fort Simpson on November 29th, it was learned that the Teaser, had left there for Tongas the previous morning. Mr. J. Cuthbert engaged a crew, consisting of four white men and six Indians and chartered a little schooner belonging to Mr. Hall, and started over for Tongas on the following day, the weather being too rough on the day of arrival. Two days later a steamer was seen crossing the mouth of the Skeena, which proved to be the Teaser, in possession of Mr. Cuthbert.

COMING HOME.

On the arrival of the Boscowitz at Alert Bay the Teaser was seen laying at the wharf taking in wood, which she was still doing when the Boscowitz left, at 8 a. m. yesterday, Dec. 7th. She will probably be down to-day or to-morrow. Capt. Hy. Moore remained at Tongas. He said he would not be taken unless it was as a corpse. All the rest of the crew are on board and glad to get back. Mr. Cuthbert engaged Capt. Wm. Madden to navigate the steamer down; he also retained several whites from Fort Simpson, J. Irvine and H. Gawthrup, in case of an outbreak among the crew.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.

The Teaser was captured at Tongas, the first port in American waters. When Mr. Cuthbert and party arrived, the crew of the Teaser was absent at a dance, and possession was taken without opposition. The engineer of the Teaser was glad of the opportunity to return home, and stated that he had been taken away against his knowledge and consent.

WHITE OWL.

Captain Jagers, the courteous purser of the Boscowitz, brought down a live white owl—a splendid specimen—which would be considered a prize by any ornithologist.

AFFAIRS AT METLAKATLAH

are again assuming a disturbed, if not an alarming attitude. Some time ago the Indians held a council and resolved to "boycott" all who dealt at the store known as the Bishop's. An Indian girl shortly afterwards, purchased two bits worth of sugar and she was forthwith dragged before the council and fined $5 and in default of payment her shawl was confiscated. For this high handed proceeding Judge Elliott sentenced two Indians, John Tait and Daniel O'Niel, heads of the council, to three months imprisonment, and prisoners were brought down to Victoria to serve out their sentence. In consequence of this, the Indians are again discontented and mutterings of insubordination against the authority of the government are now prevalent. They threatened to expel Judge Elliott. It is believed by the judge's friends that a white clergyman is in collusion with the Indians in this matter, as he is known to have been present at their council meetings and to have acted in the capacity of secretary.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

Deep Gold Diggings Discovered on the Kit-Sun-Kay-Lum—Fine Samples.

Deep gold diggings have been found on the Kit-Sum-Kay-Lum, a branch of the Skeena river. Twenty-one ounces, of a very fine sample of coarse gold were taken out by two men in three or four days. They had just got on the pay when the autumn freshet drove them out. The gold is very coarse and said to resemble that of McDame creek, which is an excellent quality. Several men went overland from the Naas river to stake off claims. It will be remembered that a report of a discovery by Mr. Madden was made a year ago at this place, but the prospecting which was entered into in consequence, was not of a particularly encouraging character; yet there were those who were of the opinion that good mines existed in that section, and who have been engaged in developing its resources with the result above stated. A number of Indians are said to have been mining in that locality during the past season with fair results.

LONDON EXHIBITION.

Parties sending specimens of ore to Mr. D. Oppenheimer, of this city, for the above exhibition, are requested to give the following particulars, viz: Location of ledge, name of ledge, width at top and bottom; depth of shaft, nature of casing or country rock; run and dip of the ledge.

PARTIES IN BRITAIN.

A Deadlock in Legislation not Improbable—A Stormy Session, an Early Dissolution and Another General Election.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The chances are still against any Liberal majority whatever, and equally against any working majority over the Tories and Parnellites. The probable net result, therefore, of the present election is a short, stormy parliament, speedy dissolution and another general election next year. The Liberals, nevertheless, are much delighted by the contrast which the counties offer to the boroughs. The Liberal county victories throughout England and Scotland are most striking.

The Daily News still hopes for a Liberal majority over the Parnellites and Conservatives combined, but believes that Lord Salisbury, refusing to admit defeat, will retain office, and thus practically acknowledge coalition, which verbally he denied.

OVERTURES FROM PARNELL.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—It is stated to-day that Parnell seeing that the Tories and Parnellites combined cannot be able to deal with the affairs of Ireland, and in view of certain needed concessions to Irish Tories by the Conservatives, has made overtures to the Liberals. The Parnellites are said to have declared that the Liberals and Parnellites combined can carry everything before them.

A SLANDERER AND A COWARD.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A cable special from Dublin says Callan is extremely bitter against Parnell for causing his defeat. In a speech at Dundalk on Thursday he said, in Parnell's presence: "He (Parnell) said last Sunday that I was truculent and unmanageable. Now I brand that statement, in the face of Parnell, as a deliberate, malignant lie." Callan here turned round and shook his hand at Parnell. "I brand him as a slanderer and a coward, and as one who has malignantly villified me. My friends have been spoken of by Parnell as a high gang of ruffians, as the lowest of the low. Well, I had no money to buy them with, for, although I entered the party a rich man, comparatively speaking, I am now a poor man. Parnell entered parliament with his estate encumbered. He has now a large estate and a balance at his bankers, and it would ill become him to turn on me in my poverty." It was expected that Parnell would say something, but he left quietly.

THE BURMAH WAR.

RANGOON, Dec. 7.—The Chamber of Commerce here has repeated its request to the government to annex Burmah in accordance with the wish of the Burmese people, and protests that another Burmese ruler would tend to cause endless trouble.

In a brief encounter between 218 British soldiers and 1000 Burmese on Wednesday, at Nyadan, three British were killed and sixty Burmese killed and 1?0 wounded.

THE QUEEN REGENT OF SPAIN.

MADRID, Dec. 7.—The Official Gazette publishes a note from the Queen Regent in which she offers her thanks to the army for its profession of regret at the death of the King and for its loyalty to the throne. The Republican papers violently denounce the Pope for favoring a project to marry the young Queen Mercedes to a son of Don Carlos.

NO RIGHT TO NEGOTIATE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 7.—The Porte has telegraphed Prince Alexander to prolong suspension of hostilities and declaring that he has no right to negotiate for peace.

BERLIN'S POPULATION 1,316,382.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—A census of the city has just been completed. It is ascertained that the population of the city is 1,316,382.

FIGHTING RESUMED.

BELGRADE, Dec. 7.—Rumors are current here that Bulgarians have resumed fighting.

ANOTHER NEW MILL.

The Oregon Milling Company Start Another Mill at Selverton, Oregon.

The Oregon Milling Company, for whom Mr. John Wilson of Yates street, is the Victoria and British Columbia agent, have started another flouring mill at Selverton, a cosy little town, on the banks of the beautiful Silver creek, on the Oregon narrow guage railway. The new mill is a modern one in every particular. In it there are ten sets of rollers capable of producing 220 bbls of flour per day. There are cleaners, scourers, scoopers, purifiers, elevators, bran dusters, bolters, centrifugal reels, and over a mile of wooden pipes and spouts running throughout the building, which is a five storey edifice and bran new from bed rock up. The machinery was started in presence of a large company of gentlemen, many of whom went from Portland to be present on the occasion. When the machinery was started up it ran smoothly and did its work in the most satisfactory manner. Close by are two warehouses stored full of the fine wheat from the Waldo hills, which is the best producer in the state. In one of these warehouses a splendid luncheon had been prepared. On behalf of the company Mr. Macbeth in a neat speech thanked Mr. A. F. McClaine for hospitalities and Mr. Scott for his kindness in furnishing a special train. He also paid Sec. Wm. Dunbar, who has charge of the affairs of the company, a high compliment for the very successful manner in which he had managed them.

The Oregon Milling Company have found it necessary to extend their manufacturing capacity to meet the increased demand for their several brands of flour both at home and abroad.

OTTAWA LUMBER MARKET.

An Ottawa dispatch of the 28th of Nov., reports the following as about the cut for the past season as the accounts in the different mill offices have not yet been collected: Messrs. E. B. Eddy's, 80,000,000 feet; John R. Booth, 82,000,000 feet; Perley & Patti, 50,000,000 feet; Bronson & Weston, 55,000,000 feet; Young's, 30,000,000 feet; or in all a grand total of 277,000,000 feet. The markets are England, South America and the United States, and some of the lumbermen state that the demand from South America is developing very great proportions, while the English market this past season has not only been reasonably good but wonderfully lively. The season's trade has been, on the whole, good, and lumbermen claim that the prospects for a good season next year are somewhat promising, unless something unfortunate turns up to mar the prospects.

THE U. S. SENATE.

Senator Sherman Appointed President on a Strict Party Vote.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.

The Senate was called to order at 12 noon. After prayer, Edmunds nominated Senator Sherman for President of the Senate. Voorhees moved to substitute the name of Harris. The yeas and nays were then ordered to be taken. Voorhees' motion and amendment was lost by a strict party vote. Whereupon Sherman was elected without further division. A committee was appointed to notify the President and House of the organization of the Senate. Then upon motion of Edmunds the Senate took a recess of half an hour to await the organization of the House. The Chamber presented a pleasant scene. The new red carpet tending to give an air of brightness and warmth to the House, which had been thoroughly renovated since spring; while members' desks, including that of the Speaker, were decorated with flowers. Here and there members stood chatting and laughing, political conversation being set aside for the time being; while members took advantage of the occasion to ?? their acquaintance among the older and more experienced colleagues, apart from the exchange of greetings. The chief topic of conversation was the proposed

CHANGE OF RULERS.

The galleries were crowded with the exception of the executive gallery, which was partially filled. The majority of the spectators were ladies.

At precisely noon the house was called to order by J. B. Clarke, its clerk, and the first session of the 49th congress began. When order was secured at the call of the clerk, the roll disclosed the presence of 320 members, the only absentees being Miller, of N. Y., Henderson, of N. C., Aiken, of S. C., Craig, of Texas, and Crioxton, of Virginia.

NOMINATIONS FOR SPEAKER

were then in order. Tucker, of Virginia, presented the name of Carlisle, of Kentucky; Cannon, of Illinois, placed the name of Reed, of Maine, in nomination. A vote was announced as follows: Carlisle 177; Reed, 138, and amid loud applause the clerk declared Carlisle elected, and appointed Messrs. Tucker, and Reed as a committee to conduct the Speaker to the chair.

THE GALLERIES OF THE SENATE

have not for many years been so crowded on the opening day of the session. The walls of the Senate chamber were draped in deep black out of respect to the memory of the late Vice-President. Upon the request of Secretary McCook, Sherman was escorted to the chair by Senators Edmunds and Voorhees and the oath of office administered to him by Edmunds. Sherman then said: Senators, I return you my grateful thanks for the high honor you have conferred upon me. In common with all the people of the United States I feel a profound sorrow at the sudden death of the Vice-President, who, by the constitution is also declared to be.........

PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

A contingency has now arrived when it becomes the imperative duty of the Senate to elect a pro tem President. In accepting that position I feel that many Senators on either side of the House are more apt in the discharge of the duties of this position, and more experienced in the rules and orders of the Senate than myself. Still I accept the position with a sincere desire that I may be able to enforce the rules with kindness and impartiality, so as to ascertain, if possible, the sense of the majority of the Senate and to give the minority its full constitutional right and protection. With a sincere desire for performing this duty I appeal to each individual Senator for his courtesy and forbearance.

COLD AND HUNGER.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 7.—From 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 10 o'clock last night the towns of Beaverfalls and New Brighton were cut off entirely from the natural gas to make connection with the Rochester mains. The weather was intensely cold, and much suffering and inconvenience resulted therefrom. Many families went to bed to keep warm, or to their neighbors who still used old fashioned fuel, coal. No food could be cooked and the restaurants using coal did a "Land office business." Hotel guests abandoned the hotels and churches held no evening services. Manufactures running on night turns had to shut down. It is thought considerable loss will be experienced at the glass houses and potteries from cooling of pots and kilns. At 10 o'clock gas was turned on and many got out of their beds to cook supper.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

MERRIT'S CORNERS, Dec. 7.—Another accident happened on new Croton aqueduct. It occurred early this morning at shaft No. 3, resulting in the death of four men and probable fatal injury of the fifth. The men were descending to work in one of the buckets used for lowering them down the shaft. The start was made all right but before the buckets had descended many feet the cross beam, or "billy" as it is called, caught in the shaft and remained fastened till the buckets had almost reached the bottom of the shaft, when it shook loose and came crashing down a distance of over 100 feet on the heads of the unfortunates killing four of them instantly.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. R. Wingate, of Tacoma, is in the city.

Messrs. McKenzie and Bell, contractor; Mr. Lindsay, a merchant from Toronto, Mr. John Oliver, of Guelph and a number of other gentlemen from the east are going over to Vancouver in the morning with the view of locating there.

INTERNAL SEWERAGE.

Already THE TIMES has devoted considerable space to the question of general sewerage. A few words now may not be out of place on the appliances necessary for carrying sewerage from houses. External closets without proper arrangement for flushing are objectionable. MR. BAILEY DENTON, the English sanitary engineer, sums up the requirements of water-closets thus: (1) They should be so placed that no objectionable smell shall find its way into other parts of the dwelling; (2) their machinery should be so arranged that no gas from either sewer, soil pipe or traps shall escape inwards. To effect the first object a closet should be constructed against the external walls with a means of direct open air ventilation, and, if possible, should have a lobby, or passage, provided also with ventilation, and a second door cutting off this apartment from the interior of the dwelling. To prevent the escape of gases, careful trapping is necessary, with perfect ventilation of the soil pipe by extending it up to and above the roof, and admitting air below, and also by a special ventilating pipe rising from the trap beneath the closet basin. A valve closet, though not so cheap nor so simple in construction as a valveless one, is the best, but it requires that the water supply should be complete and the flushing thorough. The trap should be as near the bottom of the closet as possible, and above the floor line; it should be provided, of course, with an inspection opening for cleaning purposes. Water closets should not be used as sinks for slops and refuse water. There should be a separate "housemaid's sink," with a valveless pan, a good supply of water to flush the discharge pipe, and a slatted cover to keep back the larger materials which might otherwise choke the traps. Trapping is, of course, as necessary as for a closet, especially as the sink is generally connected with the soil pipe of the closet.

The kitchen sink should be supplied with a special form of trap to prevent the house sewer being choked with grease. It consists simply of a large earthen or other receptacle beneath the sink, into which the latter empties. The grease, which is usually in a semi-liquid state when it enters the sink, is here arrested and solidified, the water flowing off into the house sewer by a syphon pipe. Of course it should be so constructed that no smells will escape from it, and at the same time with every convenience for its being cleaned out frequently. Baths are preferably constructed of copper, as in the case of japanned or enameled metal the coating will in time wear off. The most useful length of a bath is five and a half feet at the top and four and a half at the bottom, with a depth of two feet three inches. The hot and cold water inlets should not be at the bottom of the bath, but a little up it and above the overflow. One general rule applies to all these arrangements for internal sewerage; everything should be trapped and ventilated.

IN the metropolis there are 101 hospitals, in which 1,250,000 people are relieved, and which dispense outdoor relief to 4,000,000 annually. Twenty-five per 1,000 of the population are paupers, and are relieved at a cost of over £2,500,000. There are many more lunatic women than men. Cabs have increased during the past ten years from 10,000 to over 19,000. Fourteen thousand four hundred and seventy-eight children were lost in London last year. Greater London contains an area of 448,334 acres. The population for this year is given 5,139,165, of whom 60,252 are foreigners, 49,554 Scotch, 80,778 Irish; 3,214 blind, 1,972 deaf and dumb. In 1884 there were 11,705 licensed public and beer houses, and 15,519 male and 9,618 females were charged with drunkenness. In this same year there were 565 persons killed and 3,592 maimed by street accidents, and 354 suicides.

IT is a fact of which Great Britain may justly feel proud, that no more devoted husbands could have been found in it than the last seven Prime Ministers. PEEL, RUSSELL, DERBY, PALMERSTON, BEACONSFIELD, GLADSTONE, and SALISBURY all meet on common ground in this respect.

THE QUEBEC DIFFICULTY.

The trouble in Quebec is further intensified by the resignation of the HON. H. G. JOLY, the Liberal ex-premier, whose name was so prominent during the famous LETELLIER affair. He held the premiership from March, 1878, till October, 1879; and was leader of the opposition from the period of his resignation till 1883. He is a Liberal and a Nationalist, but is not in sympathy with the malcontents in his adopted province on the RIEL question. In a letter to his constituents, explaining his reasons for declining to attend a RIEL meeting, he says: "If I refuse to be present at the church and at the meeting called to adopt the resolutions of which you have sent me a copy, it is because I cannot approve of the agitation which is now being carried on in the Province of Quebec. I find in the last of these resolutions the following words:—'That it is desirable that all French Canadians and those who sympathize with them should unite in order to form a powerful party, that will secure for us respect and the free enjoyment of our rights.' I am of opinion that French-Canadians have the free enjoyment of their rights. If they have not made better use of them they can blame no one but themselves. I cannot see how the formation of a new party—the National party—could better their position; but I think I can see how it would make it worse, and how it would endanger the future welfare of the Dominion. Born and educated in France, I returned to Canada after leaving college. Although a Frenchman in feeling, it used to be a subject of deep astonishment to me when I heard my opponents in our electoral struggles contest my right to represent French Canadians in Parliament, on the ground that I could neither understand nor share their inmost feelings. The day has arrived when I must admit that my opponents were not so far wrong on that point. I can neither understand nor share the feelings expressed with so much force by the great majority of the French Canadians in the Province and in this country. Disagreeing as I do with my constituents in such a point as this, I owe it to them to resign my seat so as to allow the free exercise of their right to choose a representative who will sympathize with their feelings more fully than I can, and I send my resignation to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly."

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP.

At the different Liberal clubs great concern is already manifested as to the future leadership of the party. MR. GLADSTONE in private conversation admits his willingness to enter the next Parliament as the leader of the party, but he intimates that he will do this merely for the purpose of helping to place it on its feet as the party of opposition, and declares that it is his desire to retire from public life during the session after completing this task. So far as his expressed preference goes, it would appear that the ex-Premier wishes LORD HARTINGTON, ex-War Minister, to succeed to the Liberal leadership. MR. GEORGE GOSCHEN will join the front bench of the opposition and be loyally attached to MR. GLADSTONE. MR. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN is at present under a heavy cloud. His maladroit management in pushing the disestablishment question to the front during this campaign and burdening the Liberal party with the weight of the issue, has brought upon him the intense ill-will of all but the extremely Radical members of the Liberal party in England. Both the Liberal and Radical newspapers combine in upbraiding him for the result. The Economist says that if the Liberals are defeated at the polls, "it will be the result of MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S work." The Spectator declares that "when MR. CHAMBERLAIN supposed that by dangling the spoils of a 'free church,' 'free education' and the prospect of land on easy terms, before the poorer classes of Great Britain, he should win their support easily in his political game, he little understood how profoundly the masses of England were attached to their great traditions." Continuing, the Spectator says: "The deep rooted disgust entertained by Englishmen against revolutionary policies will not have been expressed in vain if it tames the rashness of MR. CHAMBERLAIN and SIR CHARLES DILKE."

THE total exports from Canada during October amounted to $10,527,917, of which $9,498,626 were the produce of Canada, and $1,029,291 the produce of other countries. The statement of imports for the same month shows that the total amount of goods entered for home consumption in Canada, exclusive of British Columbia, was $8,577,814, of which the dutiable goods amounted to $5,724,298; free goods, $2,332,166, and coin and bullion, $521,350. The duty collected was $1,511,937, or $104,385 less than in October, 1884.

AGAIN the agitation for taxing bachelors has bubbled up to the surface. Socialistic reform is all very well, but when it comes to taxing bachelors, the reform is running crazy. Bachelors are merely the creatures of circumstances, and through the circs may occasionally be traced to a cold, cruel mitten, or a demoralized liver, they are chiefly the result of our social system. Let the social system be properly constituted, and teething made painless and there would be no bachelors. Taxing them is all nonsense.

TENDERS will shortly be called for in connection with the contemplated enlargement of the Welland canal.

A gentleman in the treasury department of the city hall, Toronto, has an edition of Luther's works bearing the imprint "Thomas King, Wittenburg, 1558." Can any one in British Columbia show an earlier work than this?

A Safeguard.

The fatal rapidity with which slight Colds and Coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Nothing else gives such immediate relief and works so sure a cure in all affections of this class. That eminent physician, Prof. F. Sweetzer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Me., says:—

"Medical science has produced no other anodyne expectorant so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the throat and lungs."

The same opinion is expressed by the well-known Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago, Ill., who says:—

"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice of medicine, any preparation of so great value as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

Is not a new claimant for popular confidence, but a medicine which is to-day saving the lives of the third generation who have come into being since it was first offered to the public.

There is not a household in which this invaluable remedy has once been introduced where its use has ever been abandoned, and there is not a person who has ever given it a proper trial for any throat or lung disease susceptible of cure, who has not been made well by it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, in numberless instances, cured obstinate cases of chronic Bronchitis, Laryngitis, and even acute Pneumonia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a medicine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is nothing so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of Croup and Whooping Cough.

These are all plain facts, which can be verified by anybody, and should be remembered by everybody.

"Baxter's Barley-Bree"

THIS well-known and justly celebrated Brand of Old Scotch Whisky is never sent out from the Proprietor's Bonded Warehouse till it has attained an age of at least Seven Years. It is generally, however, considerably older than this before it actually reaches the consumer.

The following Certificate of Purity, under the Act of Parliament of 1875, is a recent Report upon it:—

LABORATORY OF PUBLIC ANALYST,
DUNDEE, 25th July, 1885.

"I have examined a sample of C. R. Baxter's Barley-Bree Scotch Whisky, and I hereby certify that it possesses all the properties of First Class Scotch Whisky. It has a moderate ... of aroma, and is free from Fusel Oil. I consider this Whisky of excellent quality. It is evidently thoroughly matured."

Signed, G. D. MACDOUGALD,
Fellow of the Institute of Chemistry; Public Analyst for the County of Perth, and the Burghs of Dundee, Forfar, Montrose, and Arbroath.

The Public should insist upon getting this Whisky, and should take no other. They will find it the best and safest course.

Washington College,

FOR YOUNG MEN AND BOYS.
BOARDING AND DAY PUPILS,
TACOMA, W. T.

Rt. Rev. J. A. Paddock, D.D., Rector.

By a munificent gift of $50,000 from Mr. C. B. Wright, of Philadelphia, for the endowment of the Institution, with the generous contribution of $10,000 by the citizens of Tacoma, and the liberality of Christian men and women in the East, a commodious and well appointed building has been erected and a College founded for the education of young men and boys.

The building stands on a high and healthy site, surrounded by spacious grounds, is heated with furnaces, is supplied with hot and cold water and bath rooms, and is thoroughly ventilated.

The dormitories have been arranged so that each boarder may have a room by himself. Teachers occupy rooms adjacent to the pupils; and, at all times, exercise a fatherly care and watchfulness over those committed to their trust. At meals, teachers and pupils sit at the same table, forming one family.

Professor John Tait takes charge of the Institution. He brings an eminent reputation and large experience, and will be assisted by thoroughly competent instructors in every department.

Mrs. Tait will, herself, supervise the household, and parents may, with confidence, entrust their younger sons to her motherly care.

The remainder of this school year will be divided into two terms, of twelve weeks each.

The first term will begin on January 7th, 1886, and end on March 31st.

The second term will begin on April 1st, and end on June 23rd.

MAKING CUTLERY.

THE MYSTERIES OF FORGE, HAMMER, TONGS, IRON AND STEEL.

Table Knives and Forks, Razor Blades, Etc.—The Welding of Iron and Steel—Peculiar Disease Called the "Grinder's Asthma."

[Scientific American.]

American cutlery is now finding its way all over the world, and knives, shears, scythes, and planes of our manufacture are to be found in the warehouses of most large English cities. In 1872 the importation of cutlery into the United States amounted to $2,500,000, which was cut down in 1880 to about $500,000 a year, besides which $3,000,000 worth of domestic goods were exported in that year. In the manufacture of axes, the United States have made the most marvelous advances, surpassing all other countries, except Canada, which bears an equally good reputation for making these useful implements.

Good table knives are made of steel and iron welded together; the part which goes into the handle (called technically the tang is iron and the shoulder are of iron, and the blade of steel. The tang and shoulder are forged from bar iron, and the blade from shear or cast steel. Knife blades, razor blades, and other small articles are usually forged into their required shape while still attached to the bar, which serves for the workmen to hold them by. When the bar becomes too short, it is grasped in a pair of tongs held close by a ring which clamps them by sliding up their conical handles. Two men are employed in forging such work. The principal workman, or fireman, as he is sometimes called, uses a small hammer of two to four pounds weight, while the hammerman wields the sledge hammer, weighing from ten to fifteen pounds. The fireman, who attends the heating as well as the anvil work, directs the hammerman, whose blows merely follow those of the small directing hammer of the fireman.

In drawing down or reducing a bar both in length and width, the flat face of the hammer is used; but when the length or breadth alone is to be extended, only the narrow edge of the hammer is used. The concavity of razor blades is made by hammering the blade on a small round-faced anvil; the notch, or nail hole, of a penknife is struck by means of a chisel of the required form. Superior work, such as razor blades, are "smithed" after forging, that is, beaten upon an anvil, to condense the metal as much as possible, and slightly ground or scorched upon a rough stone, to finish the shaping and remove the scale, or black oxidized surface, which would interfere with the color of the tempering.

Common knives are made entirely of iron, and the difference of prices arises not merely from the difference in cost of the material, but from the greater facility of working. It should also be understood that, in many articles composed of steel welded to iron, the saving of steel is not the only advantage, for steel being more brittle than wrought iron, it is very desirable, in all articles subject to a transverse breaking strain or to concussion, that every part except the cutting or working edge should be of iron. Thus a hatchet made entirely of steel would be less durable than one of iron with a welded steel cutting edge, and so of other articles.

Table forks are forged rudely into the shape required, first as though but a single thick prong were required. The part for the prongs is then beaten out, and a stamping die is brought down upon it, which forms the prongs, with a thin film of steel between them; this is cut out by a cutting die. Then they are softened and filed up, again hardened and tempered and ground to smooth and finish. The dry grinding of forks, needles, etc., is a very deleterious trade, on account of the particles of steel which enter the nostrils of the workmen, and produce most painful irritation, followed by a peculiar disease called "grinder's asthma," which is said to shorten life so seriously that few dry grinders, exposed to the steel dust, reach forty years of age. Many remedies have been proposed for this. A magnetic mouthpiece was invented, but the workmen would not wear it, on account of its novelty, its grotesque appearance, the trouble of cleaning it, and the belief that if their trade were more healthy greater numbers would enter it, and wages be reduced. A revolving fan, which sets in motion a current of air, that is carried by a pipe to the outside of the building, has been used with greater success, and is now in general use when it can be applied, though its introduction was much opposed by the workmen.

Fire Hose for the World.

[New York Mail and Express.]

"It may seem odd to the public, but fire hose made in this city is in use in nearly every foreign country, including China, India and the Sandwich Islands," said a down-town dealer to a reporter. "The largest single contract that we have had for fire hose was for 10,000 feet, and the longest single stretch of it through which I have known engines to play was 3,000 feet, or three quarters of a mile. This was at the works of a large fire engine manufacturing company in this state, and was done in testing their engines. Ten years ago cotton fire hose was unknown in this country; now we sell that exclusively. It was in 1874, I believe, that a loom was invented for the manufacture of seamless cotton fire hose. Its value lies in the fact that it outwears either rubber or leather, its average life being ten years in any well-regulated fire department. Only this morning we received a letter from Portugal asking for samples. It is estimated that over 2,500,000 feet of cotton fire hose are now in use. It weighs about sixty pounds per length of fifty feet, with couplings, and it is made by a very ingeniously constructed machine consisting of 6,000 pieces."

Historian Bancroft's Roses.

[Frank Leslie's.]

Mr. Bancroft's collection of roses at Washington is princely in its splendor. Friends have sent him Old World varieties, which, with those of native growth, recall the roses of which Sappho sang, as they hang their heads with fragrance. There are the Imperial, Jacqueminot, the queenly Lamarque, roses that are of royal purple, roses that are white, and yellow roses that blaze like stars. Moss roses, tea roses, sweet-brier roses, climbing roses—all varieties are represented, and the air is filled with an exquisite odor. Mr. Bancroft passes an hour every morning among his floral treasures.

Bread and Honey.

The Agricultural Gazette says that children would rather eat bread and honey than bread and butter. One pound of honey will go as far as two pounds of butter, and has, besides, the advantage of being far more healthy and pleasant tasting. It always remains good, while butter soon becomes rancid. Honey eaten on wheat bread is very beneficial to health. It is a common expression that honey is a luxury, having nothing to do with the life-giving principle. This is an error—honey is food in one of its most concentrated forms. True, it does not add so much to the growth of muscle as does beefsteak, but it does impart other properties no less necessary.

NO. 126.

A BY-LAW

For the Regulation of the Fire Department; for Electing Fire Engineers and Appointing Firemen, and Appointing their Salaries and Remuneration.

WHEREAS by "The Firemen's Act, 1884," it is enacted that from and after the passing of that Act the whole of the apparatus, whether engines, hose, books, ladders, or other articles used with, or belonging to, or in any way appertaining to, the Fire Department of the City of Victoria shall be deemed, for the purposes of that Act, to be the property of the Victoria Fire Department, subject to the order and control of the Mayor and Corporation of the City of Victoria;

And whereas by the "Municipality Act, 1881," and the Act to amend the same passed in the year 1883, it is enacted that in every municipality the Council may from time to time make, alter, and repeal, by-laws for any of the following purposes, or in relation to matters coming within the classes of subjects next hereinafter mentioned (among others) that is to say,—(59) for the assistance and regulation of Fire Departments, and (60) for electing Fire Engineers and appointing Firemen, and promoting, establishing, and regulating Fire Companies, Hook and Ladder Companies, and Property Saving Companies, and to appoint such salaries and remuneration as may be necessary, subject to the proviso that any by-law made under the authority of subsection 60 (now in recital) shall have no force or effect unless it contains provision that the Chief Engineer and Assistant Engineer be biennially elected by the municipal ratepayers nor until the by-law has been submitted to the ratepayers of the municipality and has been approved by them in the manner provided by section 74, and subsections thereof, of the "Municipality Act, 1881;"

And whereas it is expedient that the Corporation of the City of Victoria should control and regulate the Fire Department of the city and make provisions for the election of the Chief and Assistant Engineers thereof, and for the payment of the officers and firemen thereof;

And whereas the Chief Engineer, Assistant Engineer and Board of Delegates of the Fire Department of the city have consented to and approved of the arrangement and provision hereinafter made;

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, in exercise of the said recited powers and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, as follows:

1. The Fire Department of the city shall henceforth consist of a Chief Engineer and an Assistant Engineer, to be elected as hereinafter mentioned, and three Foremen, two Engine Drivers, twelve Hosemen, six Hook and Ladder men, and such reserve firemen as may from time to time be required, to be appointed as hereinafter mentioned.

2. Immediately after the final passing of this by-law and thereafter biennially in the month of December in each alternate year, the Council shall by resolution fix a time and place, appoint returning officer, and make other necessary arrangements for the election of a Chief Engineer and an Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department, in like manner as upon the election of a mayor; and at such election every person who is rated upon the then last revised assessment roll of the city shall be entitled to one vote for each office; but if only one candidate be nominated for an office, the returning officer shall forthwith declare him duly elected without a poll.

3. The Chief Engineer and Assistant Engineer so elected as aforesaid shall respectively hold office until their successors are elected or appointed, or until (before that time) they shall die, resign, or cease to discharge their duties.

4. In case the Chief Engineer or the Assistant Engineer shall die, resign, or cease from any cause to discharge the duties of his office, the Council shall appoint some other competent person to the office in his place until the next biennial election.

5. The Foremen, Engine Drivers, Hosemen, and Hook and Ladder men and reserve firemen shall be appointed and may be removed from office from time to time by the Council.

6. The several officers of the Fire Department shall, while they hold and discharge the duties of their respective offices, be entitled to be paid therefor at the rates next hereinafter mentioned, namely:—

Chief Engineer	$700 per annum
Assistant Engineer	$300 " "
Foreman, each	$150 " "
Engine Driver, each	$720 " "
Hoseman, each	$120 " "
Hook and Ladder Man, each	$120 " "

And each Hoseman and each Hook and Ladder man shall also be entitled to be paid 50 cents per hour or part of an hour while actually employed at a fire.

7. From and after the election of an Engineer and Assistant Engineer under this by-law, it shall be lawful for the Council to take and hold possession of all the real and personal property of the Fire Department of the city and all engines, machinery, and tools used by or in connection with the said Fire Department, and to assume the entire control and management thereof, and to make such rules and regulations as they shall deem necessary or expedient for carrying into effect this by-law, and from time to time to alter and revoke such rules and regulations; and for all or any of these purposes the Fire Wardens shall be a Committee of the Council.

8. In addition to the officers and men hereinbefore mentioned the Fire Wardens may from time to time appoint such reserve firemen as they shall deem necessary or expedient, to be employed when called upon, in case of fire, by the Chief Engineer or other officers acting in his place; and such reserve firemen, when so employed at a fire, shall be paid at the rate of $1 for the first hour or part of an hour and 50 cents for each subsequent hour or part of an hour per man. In case any reserve fireman shall be so called upon and report himself at a fire but shall not actually be employed he shall be paid 50 cents.

9. The apparatus of the Fire Department shall consist of steam fire-engines, hose carts and hose, hook and ladder trucks, hydrants, water-tanks, fire-ladders, fire-alarms, and other necessary apparatus, in such numbers and quantities as shall from time to time be deemed necessary by the Council.

10. The Council shall from time to time set apart out of the general revenue of the city such sum or sums of money as may be necessary to pay the salaries and remuneration hereinbefore mentioned, and otherwise to maintain the Fire Department in an efficient state.

11. Subject to this by-law, and the rules and regulations to be made in pursuance thereof the whole apparatus and management of the Fire Department shall be under the direction of the Chief Engineer; and at every fire the Chief Engineer or other the senior officer of the Department who may be present shall have sole control over all members or servants of the Fire Department, and all other persons engaged in suppressing the fire, and all engines and apparatus used therein; and every person present at a fire shall promptly obey every lawful order of such Chief Engineer or other senior officer.

12. This by-law may be cited for all purposes as the "Fire Department By-Law, 1885."

Passed the Municipal Council the eighteenth day of November, A. D., 1885.

Received the assent of the Ratepayers of the City of Victoria the 1st day of December, A. D. 1885.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the second day of December A. D., 1885.

The Runaway Arrives Back at Nanaimo, will be Here To-morrow.

NANAIMO, Dec. 8.—The steamer Teaser arrived here at 2:45 p. m., to-day, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Cuthbert. She was seized at Tongas. No resistance was offered. All the crew arrived, except Capt. Henry Moore, who was not on board when the vessel was seized. The steamer will proceed to Victoria this evening or to-morrow.

HIGHLY COMMENDABLE.

At a meeting of the Victoria Ladies' Scientific and Select Association, held last week, it was unanimously resolved that Fell & Co. were one month ahead in providing an assortment of New Fruits for Christmas, and their second consignment just to hand, being supreme to any yet received, they would, one and all, make their purchases at their establishment, on Fort street. *

JEFFREYS LEWIS.

This talented English actress will appear at the Victoria Theatre to-night in Forget-me-not. She is an artiste in every sense of the word. The support is strong—stronger than usually appears here, and the public will have a treat that is not usually accorded them in the professional line. We predict a great success for the principal and support artistically.

THE HICKS INQUEST.

The jury in this case returned a verdict last evening, that deceased came to his death by a pistol shot fired by his own hand but not with the intention of taking his own life.

CORRECTION.

In our report yesterday of the Hicks inquest, the evidence of Mr. John Richards should read, "I will rest assured that you did not do the deed." The word not was inadvertently omitted.

Purge out the lurking distemper that undermines health, and the constitutional vigor will return. Those who suffer from an enfeebled and disordered state of the system, should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla to cleanse the blood, and restore vitality. *

—Judge Elliott arrived in the city, from Metlakahtla to-day.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Victoria Y. M. C. A. Holds its Annual Meeting and Reports Satisfactory Results.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening in the Methodist Church, Rev. W. Barss in the chair. The reports of the different chairmen of committees were read; also the reports of treasurer and general secretary. The meeting was addressed by the Revs. John Reid, Port Townsend, and D. C. Davis, Seattle. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Percival.

The chairman of the devotional committee, Mr. Barker, reported that the interest in his department of the work was well sustained. This committee held 36 meetings for young men during the past year with an average attendance of fifteen. The average at Sunday Gospel services has been 110; the average attendance at bible class 11. Mr. Barker dwelt on the urgency of larger accommodation. Mr. Hastie reported from the reception committee that good work had been done by them in welcoming young men to the rooms and churches. Mr. Walker, the treasurer, reports the total receipt from all sources $1,834 65; expenditure $1,348; accounts owing and due $150 75; property on hand, furniture $202; less 20 per cent. for depreciation leaving a net balance of $161.80; amounts promised last year, but uncollectable, $300 50. An appeal for funds to carry on the work for the ensuing year was made by Mr. Davis, resulting in $437 being subscribed.

The general secretary presented his annual report as follows:

President and members of the Y.M.C.A., Victoria, B. C.

Brethren, in submitting this, my first annual report, for your consideration, I do with profound thanks to Almighty God for His care and the many mercies received from time to time at His hands. One year to-day we entered on this distinctive work for and by the Y. M. in this city, feel and that our efforts have been blessed of God. We are reminded with gratitude of the kind interest and noble support given by this whole community during the past year, and especially by the pastors and board of managers of the association. It is with pleasure that we on this our first anniversary day, meet in union service, representative of the churches to which we belong, that we, as their agents, entrusted with a special work, may give an account of our stewardship. While we realize the incompleteness of our efforts, and their comparative weakness, we still trust that what has been accomplished may redound to His glory, whose servants we are. The returning President and chairmen of the committees, having given reports of the branches of work brought particularly under their care and notice, I shall endeavor, very briefly, to touch upon those features that have come very especially under my direct supervision. A general secretary who conceives it to be his duty to perform the work himself, will prove a failure. Our duty lies in advising, planning and assisting others to accomplish the work undertaken by the association, rather than in endeavoring to do it ourselves. It is better to set ten men at work than to try to do ten men's work. The influence of the association, in strengthening and building up Christian character, and ability in its members, should be felt in our churches, and felt by our pastors. Of this time will tell. The employment register has not been as well patronized by employers of labor as we would have wished. Nineteen applications have been made to the association by business men for help. In each case the need has been supplied. No applications have been made by young men for employment. A boarding house and room register has been kept, and has been found useful in securing places in Christian families for those who have applied to us. Nine socials and entertainments have been given under the auspices of the association and have been well attended.

The women's auxilliary committee, which was organized last March, and now consists of many members, has rendered valuable assistance. The sub-committees have also given aid in decoration of rooms, providing flowers, &c. The boys branch is now a flourishing institution, comprising 53 members. This branch is under the immediate supervision of the auxilliary, and to them is owing its great success. The membership of the association is now 169, the number of paying members found on books is 131, of these 93 are active and 38 associate members. By active we mean members of Evangelical churches—not all really active in church work as they should be. One thousand seven hundred and eighty-three visits have been made to young men in the interests of the association; 663 calls made on business and 971 calls received; 3,195 letters and P. O. cards have been mailed; over 6,000 cards of invitations to the rooms have been distributed; 20 letters of introductions to other associations have been given to young men, and 43 received. Many letters of inquiry have been received from friends wishing to know of their brothers and sons, asking our assistance in their behalf. In nearly every case, we have been able to render the assistance asked for, and many kind letters have been received expressing gratitude for services rendered.

One of the most important branches of our work is dealing with individual cases. Numbers of poor fellows, far away from home and friends, alone in the world, have come to us for help in obtaining employment, to whom it has been our duty to extend a helping hand, and our pleasure to see the face brighten, the tears brushed away and a feeling of courage illuminate their countenance. One young man writes us as follows: I was friendless, homeless and cheerless, when I came to your city, but I found friends at the Y. M. C. A., may God bless you and your work. Another left us a paper knife and other office requisites and thanked us for what we had done for him. Still another, whom we had placed in a position, up country, writes us that he has joined the church and is leaning only on Jesus. Numerous other cases could be given, but these will suffice.

On behalf of the association I desire to return hearty thanks to our pastors, for their sympathy and co-operation; to all who have so liberally supported the association; to the publishers of the local papers for their uniform courtesy and sympathy, and to all others to whom we are indebted.

In looking forward we see a future of much usefulness before us. While in the past much has been done, how much remains undone, how many young men are there that we are not reaching? We must be active—ever on the alert. Every nerve must be strained, every effort possible put forth; all legitimate means should be used; larger and better accommodations are needed. A gymnasium, first class in every respect, would bring into the association a large number who are not attracted by our present efforts. They are worth saving these young men, whom we can get into our church and Gospel meeting. Satan is doing his best, and no amount of money is spared in attempts to ruin the young men of our land. Shall we hold back? How sadly the boys of our city need caring for! Other associations are doing great work in their interest, and we have been trying to plan to this end, but find our rooms wholly unsuited for the purpose. Dear friends, we leave this with you. If the work is worthy, help us as God has blessed you.

Respectfully submitted

JAS. J. DALEY, Gen. Sec.

THE AUTUMN ASSIZES.

(Before Hon. Mr. Justice Gray.)

MONDAY, Dec. 7.

REGINA VS. SPROULE.

After the adjournment for recess Mr. T. Davie concluded his review of the evidence for the prosecution and called as first witness for the defence:

James Hobkirk, who upon being sworn stated that he was in Colorado in 1879, 1880 and 1881; knew Hammill at Pitcairn; he began jumping town lots laid out by Wade, until he received notice to quit the town. He then went prospecting, and in 1881 got jumping mining claims in the winter, and skipped out in consequence of being threatened with hanging.

W. A. Hendricks, sworn—I am a graduate of the medical profession, but at present am manager of the Kootenay Mining and Smelting Co.; the company's property at Kooteney is held by me in trust among other claims there, the Bluebell acquired from the prisoner in 1884; Sproule assigned the whole of the Bluebell; there was no reservation of a part of it, the real consideration being 120 shares in the company's stock, including property in the States as well as in B. C. The company had made a contract with Sproule for the working of the Bluebell on 18th May, 1885; the last I saw of prisoner was when on the 20th May on the road with his men to the mines, I heard him call to one of them and say: "Jimmy I will be back in a week or two to take some of you to the mines;" he also required more provisions; he was road commissioner of the third road district Kootenay Company, Idaho territory; when I first met Sproule in June, 1884, he complained to me of his left arm or elbow—that it had been fractured; personally I do not know of any trail on the west side of the valley leading to the lake.

To Attorney General—Sproule was interested in the Bluebell mine on the 1st June to the extent of the proportion his shares bore to the whole of the company's stock. I started from Kootenay for Victoria last Monday morning (Nov. 30th). I do not know that Sproule when on his way to the lake was aware that Hammill would be there to work the Bluebell claim; knew it was reported that Hammill had purchased Hudnut's interest in the Bluebell mine; Sproule stated that he never had transferred any portion of the claim until he deeded it to me; I advanced prisoner when he went up at least $250; I knew of no reason why Sproule could not be on all the claims on the west side on the 1st June, though it was necessary that he should have been there personally. The number of the company's shares was 1200 at the time Sproule got his shares.

Jacob A. Myers, sworn—First knew Sproule in 1880 at old Fort Colville; he lived with me all winter, going in 1881 to the Kootenay lake district; afterwards heard he had taken up a ranch at Bonner's ferry; next heard of him from Missoula, saying he was going to Capetown S. Africa; next heard from him at New York saying he was going to Liverpool; heard from him there. He went to South America that winter. In May, 1882, heard of him from Sand Point I twas in 1882 that I first heard of prisoner's claim being jumped. Sproule shortly after started for Victoria saying he would fight the Ainsworths at headquarters. When I was going into the mines in 1883 prisoner walked into the camp with no blankets nor food. He went on to Sand Point while I journeyed on to the lake. I represented the Bluebell claim and soon received a letter from Sproule saying he had concluded to turn back to the boundary line. He finally arrived on foot, overland, having left his boat about six miles along the shore; I don't think deceased was there, but other men of Ainsworths were there. On one occasion Hudnut and myself leaving the mines in order to make time left the boat at the boundary line and proceeded on foot.

TUESDAY, Dec. 8.

When the court re-assembled this morning, the case for the defence was concluded by the examination of Meyers, Stanley Phipps, in respect to a letter received at the Lands and Works Department from Sproule and Mr. Farwell, in regard to his knowledge of the district.

The Attorney-General said he would call witnesses in rebuttal of the evidence for the defence in regard to the presence of Hammill in Colorado, and to show that there was another man of that name in that state at that time.

Mr. T. Davie objected on the ground that the evidence was contradicting a collateral issue. Objection overruled.

Nicholas Velnoweth recalled—In the latter part of December, 1880, or 1st of January, 1881, Hammill left Rosetta, Custer County, Colorado, and went to Arizona; after that I first heard from him in Puebla; next heard from him in Georgetown, Southern New Mexico; he went from there to a new town called Shakespeare, where he prospected for a time; he went from there to Globe, Arizona, and thence to a town on the Southern Pacific Railway, called Cassagrande; from there he wrote me a letter in which he related that Mr. Buckley, assistant manager of the N. P., wanted him to go to Oregon, and asking me to meet him in Rosetta, which I did on the 1st of June, 1881; on the 3d or 4th of June, he left Rosetta for Oregon, and has been, with the exception of one winter in Butte, Montana, there ever since.

Capt. Wooden recalled—I knew two men in Colorado named Hammill—T[illegible] Hammill and Thomas G. H[illegible]. Knew the latter in Leadville in [illegible] 1878-79, and I heard he was the [illegible] afterwards; he was well known there and rather unfavorably as a mining speculator.

This closed the case on both sides. Mr. T. Davie addressed the jury at considerable length, reviewing very fully and minutely the evidence adduced. He was followed by the Attorney-General in an able speech; was still in progress at 4:15. The learned judge will not charge the jury until to-morrow.

C. P. R. PASSENGER RATES.

The passenger tariff between Winnipeg and points east over the C. P. R. has been issued from the head office here. It shows the fares to the undermentioned places to be as follows:

CONCERT LAST NIGHT.

The concert last night in aid of the R. C. Cathedral fund drew a large and fashionable audience to the Victoria. Amongst the audience could be seen many of our best families and business men. To the promoters of the concert is due great credit for the manner in which the affair was gotten up, and to the performers greater credit is due for the masterly manner in which the various selections were rendered. A brief synopsis of the programme is here given. There were 16 numbers on the programme, three of which were performed by the Amateur Orchestra led by Prof. Pferdner. Miss Byrn, of Berkeley, California, sang Gounod's celebrated "Ave Maria" with pathos, violin accompaniment by T. Gore. This lady's rendition of "The Arditi Waltz" was also a feature of the evening. Mr. C. Lombard's voice was heard to advantage in "Les Rameaux," a difficult selection. Miss Clara Cameron's solo "Alice, where art thou!" was a superb number, and encored. Miss Hartnagle made her debut in Handel's famous song "Angels ever bright and fair," which was enthusiastically received and responded by an encore. This young lady has a very sweet and sympathetic voice, and well merited the unstinted applause bestowed upon her. Prof. Enrico Sorge accompanied the young lady on the piano. Mr. Offerhaus and Mr. J. S. Yates sang solos in good style. The accompanists were Misses Heathfield, Martha Campbell, Anderson and Austin, Profs. Pferdner and Sorge. The concert was an entire success throughout, both artistically and financially. Commenting on this pleasant affair would not be out of the way. To a stranger of musical tastes, he would at once be struck, on looking at the programme, of the character of the selections. They were of the highest order and classical throughout, and not every amateur would chose such difficult selections as were performed last night. The songs "Ave Maria" and "Angels Ever Bright" and also the "Arditi Waltz" are generally performed by artistes such as Patti, Nilsson or Gerster. Comparatively speaking, these selections were rendered last night faultlessly. Although not very difficult, there is great depth of feeling in them. That we have an abundance of musical talent of a high order in Victoria is a settled fact, and which aspires to reach the highest pinnacle is conceded by every one.
